

Advanced Placement Literature Test Preparation Course

Michigan State University's GATE office is offering an AP Literature test prep course for current high school students taught by MSU faculty member, and ISHALL instructor, Dr. James Davis.

Dr. Davis will help students enhance their understanding of literary concepts that appear on the AP Lit test including: imagery, tone, audience, voice, structure, and diction. Additionally, students will learn how to compose analytical and precise essay responses.

Classes will be held face-to-face, with other assignments and activities being completed online using MSU's D2L interactive course management software.

Please direct any questions to the GATE office at gifted@msu.edu or 517-432-2129.

CHOOSE FROM THREE LOCATIONS:

Michigan State University, East Lansing

220 Trowbridge Rd

Sundays, January 14 - April 22, 2018
9:30 - 11:00am

Tollgate Education Center, Novi

28225 Meadowbrook Rd

Tuesdays, January 9 - April 10, 2018
3:30 - 5:00pm

Charles Bowers Farm, Bloomfield Hills

1219 E Square Lake Rd

Mondays, January 15 - March 26, 2018
7:00 - 8:30pm

Program Cost: $195

Register online at: www.gifted.msu.edu/APlit2018

Payment is due in full upon registration. The registration deadline is Tuesday, December 19. Notice of withdrawal from the program must be given by December 19 via email to gifted@msu.edu. No refunds will be given after this date.

Participation in this course or any GATE program does not guarantee improvement on tests or assessments. Parents are responsible for signing up students for the AP test at their home school and paying the test fee. AP Exams are held in early May. See apstudent.collegeboard.org for more AP Test information. If classes do not enroll a minimum number of students, families will be notified, fees refunded, and the class will be canceled.

www.gifted.msu.edu/programs/APLiterature

